Dear Sy,

I wanted to drop a quick note to thank you and Steve for your wonderful presentation you recently held for our company. J. Lawrence Hall Co. prides ourselves on being customer oriented, however, sometimes we find that we all need a little reminder of why we are here. You and Steve did an excellent job taking your knowledge and transforming it into lessons that my employees can relate to and take to their job every day.

I have found that since our meeting our employees seem to have a better sense of their purpose. I greatly appreciate you integrating everyday safety into your talk and your understanding of how important safety is in the construction industry.

I would strongly recommend you and Steve as presenters for any company in any industry. Once again, thank you!

Sincerely,
